

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. In order to serve the public interest, please air the pro-Kerry documentary, "Going Upriver" after airing the anti-Kerry one. Then the public will have both sides of the story and be able to make their own decision, rather than having the decision of a disgusting, conservative, self-serving corporation thrust upon them. Thank you for considering this rational option.
